Our History

At Müllers we long to see the local Church strengthened to meet the needs of the vulnerable. For nearly 200 years we have supported Christians to combine prayer and care, seeing cycles of poverty broken and lives changed by the Gospel.

It started with George Müller, a missionary and pastor who led the Church in the revolutionary care of orphan children. His life of faith, prayer and action inspired people to follow Jesus and help those in need. He never once asked for a donation or went into debt, but solely relied on prayer for income. In doing this, he raised the modern equivalent of over £100 million, cared for 10,000 orphans, set up schools for those in poverty, and supported hundreds of missionaries.

Today, we carry on his legacy into the 21st Century focus our work on strengthening the Church to meet the needs of the vulnerable.

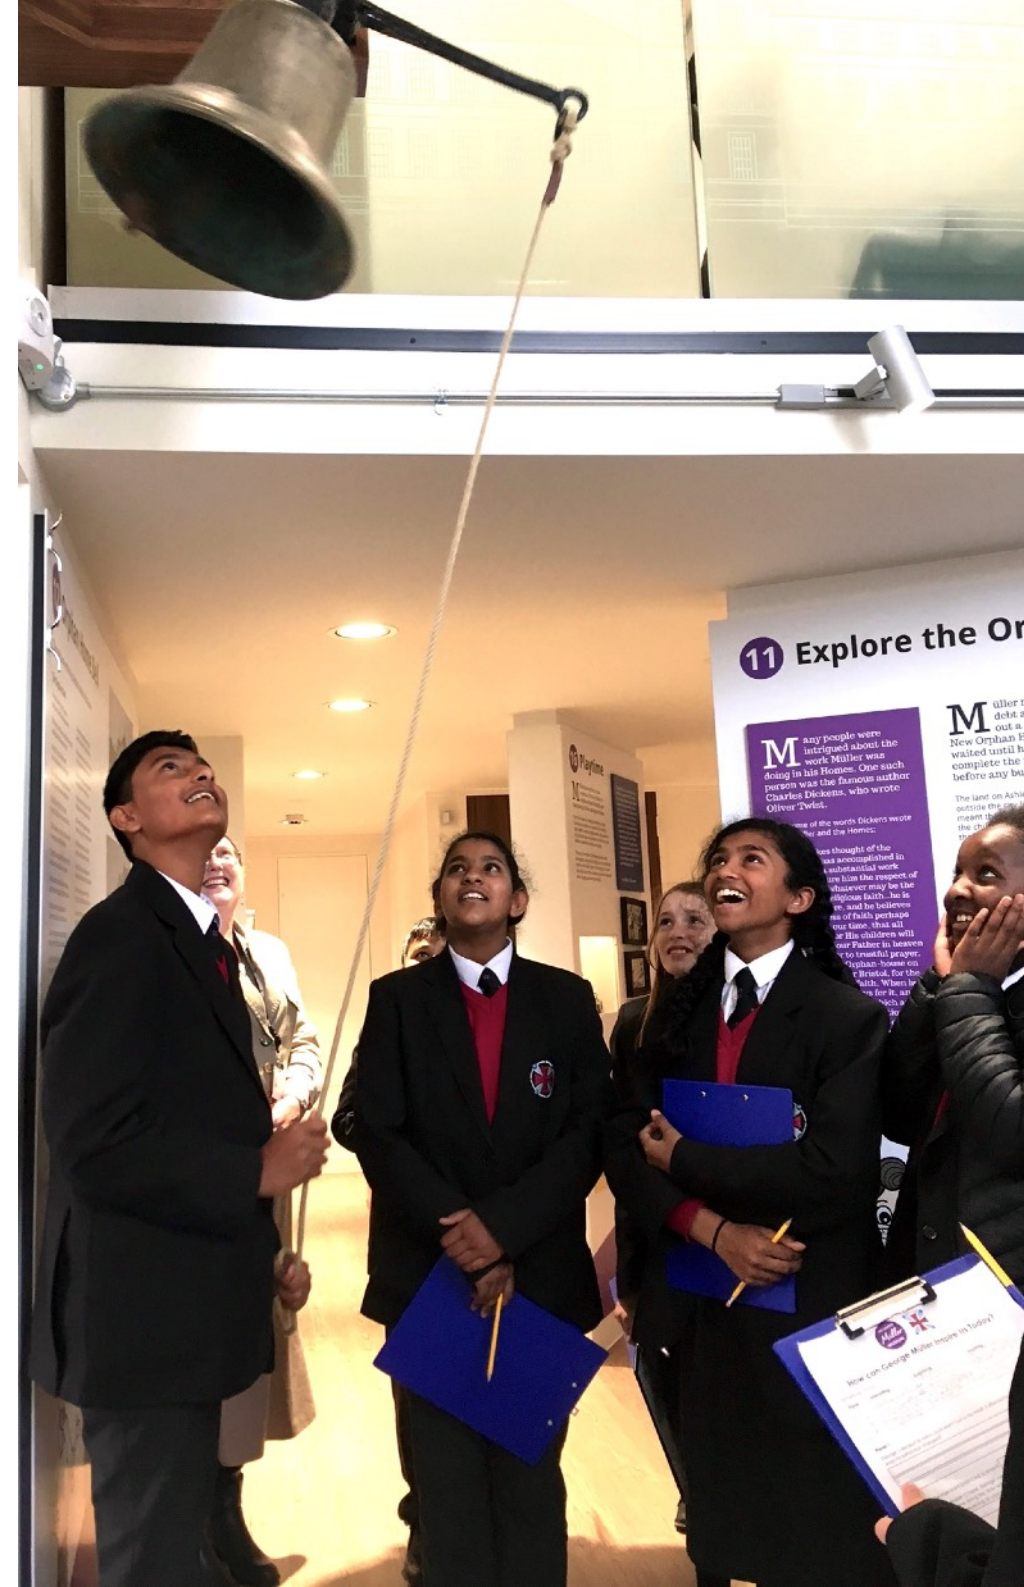

We want to see the Church, in Bristol and beyond, free children from material, relational and spiritual poverty, helping them to become lifelong followers of Jesus.

To see out our vision, we have three areas of focus. Today, Müllers seeks to...

Job Description

1. Tell the George Müller story with children of the Bristol region

- Deliver curriculum appropriate lessons (typically RE or History) on the George Müller story to primary and secondary pupils.
- Promote and host school visits to the George Müller Museum (GMM)
- Engage with other education groups (e.g. scouts, youth groups, home-school networks etc) to find opportunities to share the George Müller story.
- Build upon existing relationships with schools and create opportunities for new schools to engage with us.
- Signpost schools and pupils on to wider opportunities of Müllers and our partners where appropriate.
- To train and develop volunteers in sharing the George Müller story in schools.

2. Resource creation

- Develop KS1-4 lessons on the George Müller story that are relevant to the curriculum across the wider Bristol region.
- Develop online resources for schools to share the George Müller story themselves.

- Work with third-parties to write material that will enable the George Müller story to be shared widely.
- Train others in how to share the George Müller story, particularly with under 18s.

3. Play an active role in the the Heritage Department and wider Müllers Team

- To work with the Heritage Lead to assist telling the George Müller story with under 18s, e.g. archive research, museum development etc.
- Deputise for the Heritage Lead in telling the Müller story with other community groups if required
- To lead team prayers approximately once a fortnight.
- To assist in welcoming visitors to the George Müller Museum (possibly including Saturday mornings).
- To contribute to the fundraising efforts of the charity, namely through prayer for financial provision
- Undertake any other duties as may be requested by the Charity Leader or Deputy Leader as may be commensurate with the responsibilities of the post.
- To work with the key values, ethos, equal opportunities, and other policies of The George Müller Charitable Trust. We depend on God's provision, through answered prayer, therefore you will be required to actively share in the prayer life of the charity.
